

GPSG Newsflash

15-May-2015

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to send you the latest GPSG newsflash featuring three items that may be of interest:

=====

1. GPSG Working Paper 21: Greek politics and culture: Identifying the key patterns of political perceptions and cultural practices

by Dr George Diakoumakos

In the latest addition to our Working Paper series George Diakoumakos identifies seven patterns of cultural practices in Greece. Each of these subcultures is associated with particular age groups and/or gender, and they are all characterised by distinct political practices and social values. Diakoumakos classifies these types based on Gramsci's concept of hegemony and Diamantouros' concept of cultural dualism and provides us with a framework for the analysis of the Greek civic culture in the run-up to the crisis.

The paper along with previous ones in the series can be downloaded from our website at:

<http://www.gpsg.org.uk/publications/working-papers/>

2. Academy Stavros Niarchos Foundation Fellowship

Deadline: 31 May 2015

The Academy Stavros Niarchos Foundation Fellowship is a joint initiative of Chatham House and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation. The purpose of this fellowship is to offer young and promising leaders from Greece and the Greek diaspora the opportunity to develop their understanding, ideas and approaches on the most pressing challenges facing the world. Fellows will have the chance to advance their knowledge, develop research skills and build links with the policy, academic and other communities in the UK and more widely.

The information pack is attached.

More details can be found here:

<http://www.chathamhouse.org/academy/fellowships/stavros-niarchos>

3. GPSG officers awarded Newton Mobility Grant

We are delighted to announce that two GPSG officers - Dr Stella Ladi and Dr Dimitris Tsarouhas - have been awarded a Newton Mobility Grant from the British Academy so as to carry out important research on the topic of "Global Governance Transformed: Explaining the Nexus Between International Organizations and the European Union".

=====

With kind regards and best wishes,
Roman
-- on behalf of the GPSG Executive Committee

--
Dr Roman Gerodimos
Founder & Convenor, Greek Politics Specialist Group
www.gpsg.org.uk